Thanks. I contacted on my own. I thought it was not good for one county to question the decisions of a neighboring county.

It is not a conflict of interest for me to represent Mr. Stacy because I made the county aware of that before I took the county attorney position. The county had already hired Gentry Locke and Paylor.

Lonzo and Terry,
Neither of you were on this email. I think you need to know.

Hey guys, I'm working on a story for the May 27 edition of The Lebanon News and I wanted to get as much input from you all as possible. I'm emailing each of you because my allergies are acting up and I literally have no voice right now. Complete laryngitis. And my wife is loving it LOL.

It is my understanding that special counsel was hired for all things landfill related and Mr. Kilgore was not working on that at all for the county. Is that correct? If so, would it be considered a conflict of interest if he is contacting the Scott County Board of Supervisors in order to have them reverse a recent vote to express concerns about the landfill? Was he asked to do this by the board or a board member or was it a decision he made on his own?

Also, would it be a conflict of interest for Mr. Kilgore to represent Clyde Stacy in his case against Dharma Pharmaceuticals?

Just to make certain and to avoid any confusion, any responses to this will be considered on the record.

Thanks so much.

Shawn
